

We do not produce the raw material for our plastic injection molded articles ourselves, but obtain this from upstream suppliers.

The substances listed in the current version of the POP regulation are neither added by us nor by our raw material suppliers in the manufacturing process.

Since the raw material suppliers, for their part, obtain and use raw materials from industrial application, one should be able to assume compliance with the regulations. However, confirmations here only refer to the regulations according to SVHC (REACH). This is also due to the nature of the currently listed substances.

Nor can we rule out the presence of these substances in the material with certainty, because we do not carry out material analyses of this kind as part of our quality assurance.
